Nourish hands with the power of oatmeal.

It's no secret that the constant cycle of washing and gelling can leave nurses' hands feeling dry and uncomfortable. Not only do irritated hands make it difficult to comfortably care for patients, it also can also negatively impact hand hygiene compliance.⁴

Coated with a layer of maxOat+, our proprietary blend of colloidal oatmeal, Restore Sense gloves help soothe and hydrate nurses' hands, so they can feel good in their gloves.

What is colloidal oatmeal?

It's simply oats that have been finely ground to expose more nutrient-rich properties.

Skin-deep benefits.

Colloidal oatmeal has a long history of beneficial use in dermatology.⁵

Seal of approval.

The National Eczema Association awarded the Seal of Acceptance™ to Restore gloves.

“You need to try these... they are super soft, comfortable, strong and your hands feel really great even after wearing them for a few minutes!”⁶

Danielle, PA

“I really saw an improvement in my hands. I didn’t have to apply lotion to my hands throughout the day even as I was washing them regularly. My hands felt soft the whole shift.”⁶

Ivelisse, GA
